Scott Shelton and two other partners established Diversified Construction Solutions, Inc. in 2014 in order to serve the Central California Valley and Coastal areas with the very best in paving and grading services. From their headquarters in Bakersfield, Diversified Construction Solutions works for both public works and private industry. They specialize in commercial and residential paving projects with an emphasis on pavement maintenance services.

Diversified Construction Solutions, Inc. owns and maintains an entire fleet of high quality construction machines and recently added another Hamm roller to their operations. "We were looking to add another roller to our fleet that met specific specifications," says Shelton. "We were looking for a specific size and options and the Hamm HD110 tandem roller from Nixon-Egli fit our needs perfectly."

Among many other features, the Hamm HD110 offers articulated tandem rollers with two vibratory drums, as well as an ergonomic driver seat with two multifunction drive levers. The HD110 also has hydrostatic all-wheel drive for excellent hill climbing ability and a diesel engine with high power and low sound levels. "Our new Hamm HD110 roller is loaded with state-of-the-art electronics and a sliding and turning seat that our operators really appreciate," says Shelton. "I have done business with Nixon-Egli for over 28 years through other business entities and they have always come through with top quality and exceptional customer service. Our representative, Chris Doring is a great guy and straight shooter, with a knowledge base and communication skills that will keep us coming back to Nixon-Egli for many years to come."
