Vaca Valley Excavating & Trucking, Inc. was founded in 1985 as a general engineering contractor specializing in swimming pool excavations. Since that time, they have broadened their offerings to include paving, grading, and utility construction for commercial and light industrial development, as well as schools and municipalities. They also work for custom home developers performing earthwork for house pads, as well as installation of utilities and driveway construction.

Vaca Valley Excavating & Trucking, Inc. is owned and operated by Betty and Paul Guglielmoni and Steve Roerden. Through the years, the company has earned a reputation for quality work and performance. Part of their success is due in no small part to their hard working employees and the equipment they use on a daily basis. Paul Guglielmoni recently purchased a new LeeBoy 8510 paving machine from Nixon-Egli Equipment Co. The new addition represents the second LeeBoy paver purchased from Nixon-Egli. "We still have our LeeBoy 8500 and use it as our backup machine. We had such a great experience with our first LeeBoy, that we knew when the time came for another machine, it would definitely be a LeeBoy," says Guglielmoni. "The LeeBoy paver is a well made, reliable machine that fits our scope of work perfectly. In addition, it is Tier 4 compliant with state-of-the-art controls, rubber tracks, good visibility and automatic feeders. It has everything we're looking for to utilize on our paving projects."

Paul Guglielmoni and Vaca Valley Excavating & Trucking also have a long history with Denny Johnson from Nixon-Egli Equipment Co. "Dennis has been very helpful over the years. As soon as we made the decision to update our fleet, we knew we could go straight to Denny for a fair and honest deal," says Guglielmoni. "We enjoy long-term relationships with our public and private clients, because we treat them right every time we work for them. Nixon-Egli does the same when dealing with us. We know we can depend on Nixon-Egli."
